OGDEN DEPARTMENT.

OGDEN CITY, UTAH.

SUNDAY, JULY 19, 1891.

A Morning Suicide.

A man shot himself dead in Lester park yesterday morning. Between 9 o'clock and 9:30, the news spread about the city that someone had ended his earthly career while sitting on a bench directly opposite the residence of Adam Kuhn. The police were soon on the ground and sure enough they found a man lying dead with a bullet hole through his head from temple to temple and the blood streaming from his frightful wounds.

Richey Brothers carried the body to their undertaking rooms and examined the clothes, finding a letter addressed to Jerry D. Murphy, written by his sister, Mrs. Con. Holland, who resides in Eureka, Utah. A telegram was sent to her and a response soon came asking to hold the body until she could arrive. Murphy has been in Ogden several days and has been stopping at the Central hotel. He is a clerk in the lumber business and is well known to the boarders at the hotel, and that is the reason ascribed for the rash act. He ate his breakfast at about 7 o'clock and then went to a barber shop on Twenty-fourth street to get shaved, after which he went to the park where he committed the rash deed.

He was a well built man and stood erect at about six feet, and looked to be about twenty-eight years old. Ninety-four dollars in money was found in his clothes. The coroner's inquest will probably be held to-day. The revolver used was found lying beneath the bench upon which he was sitting and is a 44-caliber British building. It is understood that Murphy was in the salmon business in Eureka.

United States Marshal's Arrests.

Deputy United States Marshal George D. Corey reports making the following arrests:

Charles Rannell, of Hyrum, on the charge of house breaking. He pleaded guilty to the charge and gave bonds for his appearance before the grand jury.

John Johnson, at Logan, on the charge of assault and battery, who also gave bonds for his appearance.

H. S. Bassett, arrested at Logan on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. George Thatcher and James Quail went as sureties for his appearance.

The Liberal Meeting.

Last evening about 7:30 o'clock Kent's military band appeared on the streets and marched to the Liberal headquarters in the office of Breeden & Gunnell, in front of which was waiting a line of carriages and hacks to transport the delegates. The liberals, who arrived at the special train over the Union Pacific at 8:10, from the depot to the Grand opera house.

Heading the procession to the depot was S. S. Schramm, president of the Liberal club, followed by Deputy Marshal McLellan carrying the stars and stripes, a single banner carried by some small boys, which bore the inscription "Liberalism is the front." In the carriages were the Liberal ringleaders, Fred J. Kiesel, M. A. Breeden, J. N. Kimball, Councilman J. R. Elliott and others.

Those that arrived from the capital were such Liberal gals as Judge Powers, C. C. Goodwin, Judge Haskin and others of their fold, the Liberals were met by a large number of adherents, including the entire delegation from Salt Lake, Flammann club and all. The meeting was called to order by Judge M. A. Breeden, who presided at length and introduced Judge Boreman as permanent chairman. On motion of F. J. Kiesel, a central committee composed of Don Magnus, H. H. Wood, J. P. Bryan, Moroni Stone, William F. Zell, William Harbome, E. W. Smoot, John Smith, each representing a precinct in the county were appointed. The central committee were appointed. The speakers of the evening were J. R. Kimball, T. Pettigill, R. N. Bakin and C. C. Goodwin. Judge Powers, in the course of his remarks, said: "If Ogden does not roll up a big Liberal majority, I will never come back to Ogden again." Judge Powers closed the night's program, and the Salt Lake Liberal drum corps and Flammann club made a big noise as possible for about half an hour and left for Salt Lake. The meeting was by no means what the Liberals expected, and shows that those who were joined the national parties in Utah must stand firmly by their doctrines. A nominating committee was appointed to meet in the city hall Tuesday next to place a ticket in the field to be voted for at the coming election.

Points Voters Should Observe.

The Standard of yesterday morning's issue devoted a half column editorial in endeavoring to compare the Republican with the Democratic ticket. The editor could find no fault with the latter ticket personally, but because one or two candidates were selected from the city and not from the county he offers as an excuse that the dear one that he loves so well should receive the majority of the suffrages in this county. In speaking of the candidate for the county superintendent of schools he says: "This is an officer in whose election Ogden city has no word to say; it does not vote for him at all; whoever holds the position must be the choice of the majority outside of municipal lines. Yet here again the rights of the county were clearly ignored and overridden, and a resident of Ogden, at which point the Democrats seem to think is concentrated all the wisdom and intelligence of Weber county, was put in nomination."

The man who wrote these lines must have been suffering from a serious case of perturbation of mind, which, if it is the case, he is excusable for this conduct, but if not he knew very well he was trying to force onto the people a base falsehood.

In the first place Joseph S. Peery was nominated in the Democratic county convention by a delegate from the county, Samuel Doser, of North Ogden, and it was seconded in some very appropriate remarks by W. L. P. Peyton. No sooner had Mr. Peyton concluded when another delegate from the county, O. J. Swenson, of Plain City, arose and stated that Mr. Peery was the very man whom he intended to nominate for the position. His name was received with an uproar of enthusiasm, and he was declared the choice of the convention without a dissenting word. Now, doesn't that show he was the choice of the majority outside of municipal lines? Does that show that the rights of the county were clearly ignored and overridden as the volatile editor states? As to the city not having anything to say in the election of such a candidate that has never been questioned. But the city delegates were permitted to cast a complimentary ballot, as they did in the Republican convention last Friday. In the second place the voters in Weber county should not elect a man to such a responsible position as superintendent of schools without first considering the fact that it is pre-eminently necessary to make the county schools a success—the superintendent should be an educated man, a man who has gone through the course of study in the best colleges of to-day and who has made himself acquainted with all the modern methods of conducting schools, as Mr. Peery surely has. No person who has associated himself so far from school work than being a teacher in a primary department is a fit subject to promote educational advancement in the county.

Mr. Gibson, the Republican candidate, is a farmer, in which honorable vocation he is no doubt fully educated, and to think for a moment that he would improve the system of schools and place them on such a standard as they should be, having no experience in such work, seems out of the question. This is a point the voters should keep well in mind.

Another thing, the superintendent of schools should be in Ogden, his office should be located in a convenient place in the city, in easy access to those coming from the surrounding country. When it comes to holding examinations and the like it is necessary they should be held in Ogden, where convenient quarters can be had and where it is most accessible to the entire county. To hold all teachers' meetings in the northern village of North Ogden, almost on the northern line of the county, would make it a great disadvantage to those living in the southern and western portions of the county, and it might be said to the county at large.

Furthermore, Mr. Peery has inaugurated a movement in the workings of the public schools which should be disrupted now, if he is allowed to go on and complete his work, by the time fall spring arrives the public schools of Weber county will be equal to those of any of the states in the union.

General Gleanings.

And now the fight is on.

The hotel registers showed a light record yesterday.

The electric railway poles are all up as fast as five poles.

C. D. Moreley, Esq., is in Corinne on business several days.

Kent's military band furnished the music for the Liberal meeting last evening.

"Alabama" will hold the boards at the Grand opera house Thursday evening, July 23.

A lively row occurred on Twenty-sixth street last evening, but fortunately no one was injured.

Prof. Kent will give a concert in the Grand opera house Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Utah university.

I. N. Pierce and R. C. Landy have returned from a business trip to Denver, Omaha, Chicago and other points east.

The streets were very quiet yesterday for Saturday. The country people took advantage of the circus the day before.

County Clerk Ledwith issued a marriage license yesterday to Hans Becker, aged twenty-seven, and Amy Haskin, aged twenty-two, both of Ogden City.

The following telegram remains un-called for in the office of the Western Union Telegraph company: John Letter, F. A. McCord, Moore & Allen, Frank Merredith.

In an interview yesterday with Mr. J. Schott, of the extensive wool house of J. Schott & Co., of St. Louis, the gentleman expressed himself in terms most complimentary to the wool growers of Utah.

He claims the products compare favorably with any in the country, having shipped and bought 1,000,000 pounds of Utah wools this season. Though this is his first visit to this section of the country, he has earned a favorable reputation by his honorable dealings. He is accompanied by Henry Marx, who has represented his house in Utah section the past two years. Mr. Schott's travels for his home in St. Louis in a few days.
